Transmax announces new Board directors

Transmax is pleased to announce the appointment of two new non-executive directors, Mr Vinnie D'Alessandro and Ms Iyari Cevallos, to the Transmax Board. Both appointments became effective in March 2026 and are for a three-year term from 27 March 2026 to 31 March 2029.

Transmax Chair, Catherine Black, welcomed the appointments.

"I am pleased to congratulate Vinnie and Iyari on their appointment to the Transmax Board," Ms Black said.

"Vinnie brings substantial expertise in technology-enabled transformation, and his demonstrated ability to successfully integrate innovation with strong commercial outcomes will be an important contribution to both the Board and the organisation as it continues to evolve."

"Iyari is a highly regarded, values-driven leader whose commitment to equity and inclusive leadership aligns strongly with Transmax's principles. Her experience and perspective will add significant value to the Board, and we are delighted to welcome her to Transmax."

A highly experienced executive and company director, Mr D'Alessandro brings over 25 years of expertise across fintech, technology, artificial intelligence, and digital transformation. He is recognised for commercialising complex technologies and leading large-scale product, growth, and transformation initiatives across listed companies, startups, and industry bodies.

Ms Cevallos is an accomplished executive and non-executive director with more than 20 years of experience across management consulting, technology, government and energy infrastructure. A Director of Núcleo Group, she has led strategy, digital transformation and governance initiatives across ASX100 companies and government-owned entities. Ms Cevallos is Chair of Women in Technology and a leading advocate for equity and inclusive leadership.

Mr D'Alessandro said he was pleased to join the Transmax Board.

"I'm pleased to join the Board and look forward to contributing my experience to support Transmax's strategic priorities, innovation agenda and long-term growth," he said.

Ms Cevallos also welcomed her appointment.

"I'm pleased to join the Board at a pivotal time and look forward to contributing my experience to help guide strategy, strengthen governance, and support sustainable and inclusive growth," she said.
